BASKETBALL SQUADS
START PRACTICE

Basketball season is here. The boys and girls teams are practicing hard every day. The ten girls who turned out were put through a light practice by Miss Burt, the girls' team coach. The girls team has on it three who received letters in basketball last year. They are Mary Hannaford, Sybil Caster, and Freda Chambers. These girls saw service on the first team last year so the school expects a lot from them.

The boys' tryout was held at 7:00 Monday evening. Twelve boys under the supervision of Mr. Haan were put through some preliminary practice. The boys are most green and unexperienced players but they are heavy and fast and are gradually rounding out into a strong team.

CHANGE IN PUBLICATION

Due to the Basketball schedule which is now in force, it will be necessary to change the publication day of the Eagle's Quill from Thursday to Friday.

HISTORY CLASS
MAKES POSTERS

The High School U.S. History class has reached the kindergarten age again. You will see them in attics, or store-rooms where papers and magazines are kept, busily cutting out pictures of kings, colonial people, and even little pick-an-nies. These will be used in posters showing the political discontent of the Colonies.

ARMISTICE DAY

How many people stop to think of the meaning of the day, "Armistice"? To many it is a day of relaxation from the strain of work; to some a day for a bit of outdoor recreation; and to the standard student a thankful break in the monotonous grind of school work.

It was for the glorious ideals of a model and free nation that the bloody and terrifying war was fought. To the men that so gladly sacrificed their noble lives to hold up and secure the safety of that government the people of the world owe everlasting tribute.

The marvelous mechanism of the United States Government which controls the public offices, the weighty matter of political life, and indirectly our own wonderful public school-system, all tend to form the ideals which each citizen respects. It is left to those remaining of the vaste horde of soldiers and citizens to do their part to uphold our nation. Every one has their duties. Do not neglect yours. M. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spaulding of Climax were callers at the Sam Coy home Sunday, Nov. 3.

*GRADES APPRECIATE FLOWER BOX

The pupils of Miss Aitken's room wish to express their great appreciation for the fernery which Mr. Philips made and gave to them last week.

This is but one of the many kind deeds which the janitor has done for the different rooms of the school.

GIRLS' ENTHUSIASM EVIDENT

Despite the lameness of some of the girls of the Athletic Club last Thursday, the class has not lost interest in its work. The fact that it is an aid in reducing is enough to keep the enthusiasm of its members.

Under the able supervision of Miss Burt, the girls have learned two steps of a Spanish dance and a number of new exercises.

The hike which the girls had planned for last Saturday has been postponed until the coming Saturday when they will hike to Rogue River.
